Spain Repeats Her History

By WILLIAM H. RUSCH

revolutionary stamps that are being issued. The events of recent years remind one of the events of the 1870's in Spain which remarkably parallel the happenings of today. King Amadeo, son of Victor Emmanuel II of Italy. was elected King of Spain in 1870. His was one of the most troubled reigns in history. A monarch who tried to do the right thing, Amadeo wanted his people to have a liberal government similar to that enjoyed by the people of Italy. He wanted the people of Spain to have a voice in governmental affairs. Above all else, Amadeo wanted to put an end to the political uncertainty which characterized this period of Spanish history.

But in his efforts he was unsuccessful. A large percentage of the Spanish people disliked him-some because he was an Italian, some because they wanted a republic, some because they favored Don Carlos, who also claimed the Spanish throne, and others because they disliked his liberal ideas of government.

Amadeo could not establish a strong confusion, torn by civil wars and all sorts a ministry that would satisfy a majority of the many political groups in Spain. Eight ministries were formed in the two years of his reign. As each ministry fell, the government became even weaker.

Provisional stamp issued while Amadeo's government was being formed.

Finally, the Spanish government became so disorganized that Amadeo gave up all hope of ever seeing an end to the political warfare in Spain. In February, 1873, he abdicated, expressing the opinion that it was an impossibility for his aims to be attained.

Now, kingless, Spain decided that it should become a federal republic. The republic got off to a good start: It guaranteed religious freedom and the right of the people to vote, and it freed the slaves in Puerto Rico. But the republic could not last long. The Spanish people were not fitted for self-government; long ac-customed to the absolute rule of the monarch and divided into numerous warring political factions, the Spanish people soon found that their government was a republic in name only.

The republic found itself in so much

HESE days, we are reading about government. It was impossible to select of political disagreements, that the result the war in Spain and the many a ministry that would satisfy a majority was a military dictatorship under Marwas a military dictatorship under Mar-shal Serrano. Finally, the leaders of the army resolved upon a restoration of the monarchy. Prince Alfonso, the son of Queen Isabella II, was selected and became Alfonso XII.

> Thus the cycle was completed: Kingdom to Republic to Dictatorship to Kingdom again. All of these changes are shown by the stamps of Spain. A set of stamps issued in 1872 shows King Amadeo; stamps issued in 1873 and 1874 are of republican design showing "Espana" and "Justice"; stamps of 1875 portray Alfonso XII. Also, stamps issued by a revolutionary group from 1873 to 1875 show the portrait of "King Carlos VII."

Today, we can also see by the Spanish postal issues that Spain is repeating her history. Alfonso XIII abdicated, a republic was set up, and this republic is now giving way to dictatorship. And this dictatorship will probably lead to a re-storation of the Spanish monarchy.

Von David in Boston

Of interest to many collectors throughout the United States will be the news that Dr. Pritchard von David has been appointed Vice President in charge of sales promotion for the New England Stamp Co., Inc., of Boston, Mass. One of the oldest stamp firms in the country, established in 1893, The Scott Stamp & Coin Co. has relinquished its interests in the firm and local persons now control and will manage the business. Dr. Von David is well known, for though he hails from Texas he has attended stamp meetings throughout the country during his extensive travels.

Air Mail Catalogue

The first complete handbook on airpost covers to appear in the last five years, is expected late this Fall, when the American Air Mail Catalogue appears. It will include 600 pages with maps and illustrations in profusion. The volume will cost $3.50 and a new edition will not appear again for two years at least. Walter J. Conrath, Albion, Pa., Editor of the Airpost Journal, is Business Manager of the catalogue.

The Latest Presidential Designs

On the first of November the Post Office Department released photographs of the designs of the three highest denominations of the Presidentials announced for issue this month. It will be noted that starting with the 20c the designs have a double frame line, this being planned to make the 20c to 50c values differ in appearance from the others. two dollar values. It should be noted by some collectors that the 22c will be the highest denomination on which will be shown a president whose numerical sequence in order of terms is the same number as expressed in the stamp's denomination. Cleveland, the 22nd President, appears on the 22c, but he also was 24th President. Harrison was 23rd President, but since it is not planned to issue a 23c stamp, he will be portrayed on the next higher denomination planned, the 24c. McKinley, who was 25th President, will appear on the 25c stamp, but this is an accidental coincidence. Roosevelt, the 26th President, will be portrayed on the 30c and Taft, the 27th President, on the 50c, so collectors should not become confused as some have and think they are using the wrong envelope for their covers.

Rumor Found Baseless

Rumors having been circulated that the new Presidentials might be replaced soon by other designs due to the plates being defective, Herman Hallstein of the Philatelic Activity of the Brooklyn Edison Club wrote to the Post Office Department inquiring if this were true. The Department replied:

"The report mentioned in your letter did not originate in the Department, and we have received no information of an adverse nature to date from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing with regard to the stamps of the new regular series from the viewpoint of the durability of the printing plates. So far as the Department is now aware, these stamps will be continued in use over a period of years, the same as stamps of previous designs."

The above rumor was apparently based on questions raised by some collectors whether the particular type of designs with the numerous fine lines would stand up as well as other designs, but apparently no trouble has been had in that regard. The above item appeared in Pabec, official organ of the Brook-

Stamp sales through the Philatelic Agency during September amounted to $161,988.38 and in October $125,933.22, these figures reflecting the number of high values recently added to the stock.

NEW SEASON While most of us collect stamps the year 'round and rare indeed is the dealer who closes for even a few weeks in summer, hot weather does lessen the amount of time each of us devote to philatelic activities. Annually, September sees an upswing in interest. Program chairmen of the clubs dust off ideas put aside in June and meetings take on a livelier appearance; dealers note an increase in sales of hinges-indication of intentions of mounting the new ones accumulated over the summer. Most familiar harbingers of the arrival of Fall, are the announcements of innumerable Annual Exhibitions, Annual Dinners and Open Houses. A few weeks ago we visited and bourse and if interest and attendance noted there can be taken as a yard-stick for similar affairs elsewhere, then this season will be a good one for philately.

Things are getting back to normal in stamp issues here and abroad too. The Presidentials will shortly vacate the U. S. stage and become just another regular issue; the George VI Colonials are now out from most of the colonies. These two large groups of stamps have monopolized interest and spending resources of many collectors, and with no other similar group in sight, dealers can look for more variety in purchases for a change.

Renewed interest in U. S. issues can be expected when the set honoring peacetime heroes appears, the commemorative character and prospective low face value combining to make the set popular. Much is also being expected of the Post Office Department's voluntary acceptance of the chore of publicizing the hobby of stamp collecting by means of its Philatelic Truck. For years the national societies have timidly approached the matter of publicity, hampered by their self-ap-pointed treasury watchdogs. That the Department is putting its power behind a campaign to interest thousands of new collectors can only result in many new recruits to the hobby, and a better appreciation of it by the general public.

It's pleasant to note that the almost insane craze of cachets for the most trivial events has subsided almost entirely. The deluge of National Air Mail Week can be credited with hastening the end of the Cachet-For-Anything Era. Many of the devotees never were stamp col-lectors and many others who finally realized what they were doing, abandoned their shoe boxes for albums, the multitude of new postage stamps proving far more pleasing to their eyes than the multitude of cachets of doubtful collection worth.

Reports in the wholesale and investment market indicate the speculators have already unloaded the bulk of their holdings. Coronations of some colonies are reported to have returned to those places to be used as ordinary postage, thus neatly ridding the hobby of holdings not readily and in fact almost impossible of absorption in the philatelic market. The same has happened with those very recent U. S. issues, also unwisely bought. Thousands of sheets have passed through the brokers and been used for postage, though admittedly large quantities still remain to be liquidated. This manner of disposal has benefited the hobby in two ways, by cutting down the surplus of unused stock, and adding to the never abundant used stock.

It's too early to predict what fields this fall will see the most activity but new issues of the non-souvenir sheet class will continue to take the lead from what we have noticed, hand in hand with that old standby, U. S. 20th Century.

EVER NOTICE MANY STAMP COLlectors have another hobby? The other night we journeyed with other members of the Columbus club to enjoy the hospitality of Fred Burton of Baltimore (Ohio), also home town of our Precancel Editor. Our host had a collection of dinner bells, not to mention coins and paper money, all kept in the best stamp(?) den we've seen to date. It's in the cellar but that had absolutely nothing, we as sure you, to do with our opinion.

CONGRATULATIONS ARE order to the Roosevelt Philatelic Society for the fourth anniversary of their newsy club bulletin, The their newsy club bulletin, The Straight Edge, and to Editor W. T. Walters for conducting it so well during that period. Certainly a mark for other clubs to shoot at.

COLLECTORS IN THE HABIT OF looking for stamps in dumps should use caution. Yes sir, stamp collect-ing is a dangerous hobby. Joseph Primogenito, 25, of Buffalo lost his life when struck by a truck as he searched for stamps at a dump. Forewarned is forearmed, and collectors in the future will have to add red flags and tail lights to their standard equip-

COMMENT IN E. B. POWER'S Eleventh Horse Sense, "I've just mounted U. S. commemorative collection in blocks with plate numbers and when finished it is unsatisfactory and ugly." The man must wear a bullet-proof vest!

RIALTO STAMP CO. New York, N. Y. 100 W. 42nd St.

U. S. NOTES

Roy N. Murray of Roanoke says he recently picked up a block of eight of the 1926 10c "Map" airmail stamp, which has, he writes, "C. V. De B. on the same position a plate number would be." These letters are the initials of Clyde V. De Binder (if we recall his name correctly). Prior to about 1929 it was customary to see initials like these alongside the stamps in the lower corners of the plates. They are the initials of various employees of the engraving department of the Bureau, who made the plates. Frequently there are two sets of initials next to the stamp and just as frequently the initials are doubled from being hastily entered with steel punches. A few collectors collect these, though generally there was never much interest shown in them. De Binder is or was a stamp collector by the way. The normal position of the plate number on all flat plate issues (of which the 10c Map was one) was to be alongside the fifth stamp from the outer corners of the plate. In 1930 the numbers at sides of plates were omitted. Numbers on rotary press stamps have appeared, in general, opposite the corner stamps. Plates made about 1908 at the Bureau had the initials stamped on them of every employee handling them, resulting in many sheets having rows of jumbled letters along the entire margins of panes as sold at post offices. These markings are usually termed "en-graver's initials."

Ever see how those perforated initials are made? You know, the ones that appear so frequently on the stamps of big firms. One machine used will perforate with the design a row of ten stamps at a time and not more than several sheets at a time. It works, and looks in size, like the common trimming board. The design is made of pins which punch through the paper and slide into a steel plate drilled with holes to match, thus neatly punching out the paper.

Scott's subsidiary, J. C. Morgenthau & Co., Inc., recently offered a large lot of blocks of the 1890 imperforates, including 15 different trial color proofs of the 6c and large blocks signed by Post-master General Wanamaker, famous department store operator. The 1890 issue imperforate was supposed to have been issued by exchange at that time for the benefit of a dealer who was rearranging the government's collection. Only one sheet of each value was issued, the story goes, he presenting a full sheet of perforated ones in exchange.

J. M. Bartels says the Philadelphia die of the 3c Centennial envelope in red exists in only three or four copies and that none were officially issued. He says they are at best samples or trial printings. So No. 2423a is another catalog number that should be deleted.

A recent offering on the stamp market was a set of over 50 different die proofs from the estate of the late Postmaster General Harry S. New including those of all stamps issued during his term of office, 1921-1929.

Imperforate U. S. continue in demand, and with exception of the Farleys and miniatures, offerings are scant. A recent offering in the Mint Sheet Brokerage bulletin board was for a sheet of 2c Harding, price $150. Face value was only $8, quite a climb in 15 years.

The branch post office established at the A. P. S. Convention used the usual style, handstamp postmark inscribed "AMER. PHILATELIC SOCIETY CONV. STA. NEW ORLEANS, LA." with four thin bars to right of circle. Thanks to Minnie Rosse, Secretary of the Rubber City Stamp Club for a specimen cover.

Price Robinson of Fresno, Calif., asks if there is any record of an error of the 2c Red Cross 1931 commemorative. He has run across a copy which has the red cross much closer to the globe than in other copies he has seen and wonders if this is an error. Varieties such as this are not uncommon, we regret to advise, for such can be expected of any stamp printed in two or more colors.

WHAT DOES PRICE MEAN?

Price without the stamp beside it means little. That is why we prefer for you to buy on approval and know what you get. A card will bring you any country you desire to look over at attractive prices.

Each portion of the design that is in a different color must be printed separate-Each time it goes through the press the slightest shifting of the sheet from normal position results in the second color being just that much shifted. Most of these varieties are however caused by the uneven shrinkage of the paper, due to its being dampened each time it is printed upon. Collectors unfamiliar with printing can more readily understand why slight variations like this occur on two-color stamps if they will take two rubber stamps (any rubber stamps) and then try to make half a dozen impressions from each alongside each other. No matter how hard you try, there will be slight differences in spacing between them. These varieties on multicolored stamps are of no extra value.

Probably the rarest items among specialties of 20th Century U. S. are the proofs and essays. Though Scott lists these in the catalog, none have been issued except by favor or else through dispersing of the effects of estates of engravers. Some of the pieces are very beautiful, and their prices are not to be wondered at, considering that in many instances only one or two copies are known to exist in private hands.

Tough luck of the sort to make one itch to commit mayhem is recorded in Western Stamp Collector regarding one first day cover collector's poor luck. He sent his first day cover of the new $1 addressed care of the U. S. Consul at Buenos Aires, Argentina, but when it got back someone had peeled off the new Wilson stamp and substituted a copy of the $1 old-style and then to cover up the theft had drawn pencil marks to look like the cancel!

The number of U. S. postoffices has declined nearly 20,000 during the last thirty years, mainly due to establishment of rural routes via automobile.

That some folks collect full imperf sheets of U. S. is evidenced by an inquiry in the Mint Sheet Brokerage bulletin for such a sheet of the Hudson-Fulton 1909 2c.

Cortlandt Exhibition

The Cortlandt Stamp Club of Peekskill, N. Y., will hold its annual exhibition at Peekskill, N. Y., on December 1 and 2. Entries by other collectors are invited and inquiries should be addressed to Fred Gamble, Stamp Editor, Highland Democrat, Peekskill, N. Y. The club also has a miniature sheet prepared, which it is selling at 10c each or three for a quarter, and will use one on outside of a cacheted cover at same rate during the show. These may be obtained of Mrs. Fred Moore, Secy., 14 S. Division St., Peekskill, N. Y. The sheet is a gummed affair printed on white paper with ruled blank spaces in center, to which the three lowest values of the Presidential series have been affixed.

The Canadian 13c Pictorial

As announced two weeks ago, the Canadian postal service will issue a 13c stamp on Nov. 15 as an addition to their new regular series issued June 15. The Deputy Postmaster General states the delay was "on account of difficulty experienced in fitting a suitable design into the plan followed in our new general issue of higher denomination stamps." The date "1938," it might be noted, will be found in the design just above the frame line of the scene above the "S" of "CENTS."

Kenmore Annual Meeting

The Kenmore Philatelic Society has announced its program for meetings scheduled until next June. The annual meeting is scheduled for December 6, with a "Roast Beef Dinner" chief portion of the meeting. In fact, food is a feature, it seems, of Kenmore meetings, for we note a pig roast is scheduled for Nov. 15 and a venison dinner for Jan. 17, with just plain "eats" for the election on Nov. 8. Ernest Jarvis of the KenMore Stamp Company is scheduled to show British Colonials on the 29th of this month. Meetings are held at the club rooms, Kinsey and Delaware Avenues, Kenmore, N. Y., every Tuesday evening, September to June.

 The new 10 soles Peruvian air mail stamp depicts the Crypt of The Heroes in the cemetery of Lima. This beautiful memorial holds the remains of veterans of the War of Independence, the war with Spain in 1866 and the war with Chile in 1879.

◆ FOUR YEARS FOR ONE DOLLAR

For some time past we have been offering a four year subscription to Linn's Weekly Stamp News for only one dollar. This offer is soon to be discontinued when our regular rate of 50c for a single year or three years for one dollar will become effective. We had originally planned to make this change early this fall, but business conditions have been such that we had many letters from readers who wished to renew their subscription on that basis but pointed out that they just could not afford to do so at that time. These parties asked that we hold the offer open a bit longer and because of these requests we decided to do so.

Therefore you can still get Linn's Weekly Stamp News four whole years for one dollar in the U. S. A. This offer, however, is to be held open only a short time yet and we urge that you make your renewal provided your subscription is to expire soon or that you tell your collector friends about this extraordinary offer in order that they may take advantage of same. The offer positively will be withdrawn soon so act at once. Address your subscription to Linn's Weekly Stamp News, Columbus, Ohio.

The Stamp Irade

A discussion of Stamp Collecting and Stamp Dealing from the Business angle by the Managing Editor. GEORGE W. LINN

WE APPRECIATE IT

We certainly do appreciate the letter reprinted below. We know that Mr. Fawcett speaks his mind as any good newspaper man should speak his mind. The letter stamps Mr. Fawcett as a below. We know that Mr. Fawcett speaks his mind as any good newspaper man should speak his mind. The letter stamps Mr. Fawcett as a journalist of the old school, the school in which we had our training.

Away back in the 70's my father was a newspaper editor, printing and publishing his sown newspaper, the early editions of which were pulled off on a Washington Hand Press. Those were the days of such typical American Editors as Henry Watterson. Those were the days when Editors said and printed what they that aght. It is to be regretted that those days have passed for most Editors.

The average Editor of today is managed by the Business manager and the Business manager has an eye to advertising patronage, the policy of a paper is no longer in the hands of the Editor but in the hands of the "Boss" who thinks first in dollars and cents.

It is to be regretted that the public has accepted this fact, public acceptance makes it much easier for the Editor to be led.

We have often thought that we might go ahead faster, attain greater success, were we to follow in the footsteps of the new school, soft soap, salve and salomi—everything everybody does is "Ho-Kay" or if it "aint" don't print it. Take sides? Sure, but always take the side that looks like it's going to go the farthest.

However, it is hard to learn an old dog 'new tricks and so long as we have a conscience we will probably continue to think for ourselves, and we hope we can still keep the courage to face our fellow men and print and speak our thoughts.

George W. Linn.

THE EVENING STAR-THE SUNDAY STAR Washington, D. C.

October 30, 1938

May I congratulate you on the tenth anniversary of Linn's Weekly Stamp News and wish you prosperity during the next

There is a certain bravery about what you do, a certain independence about how you do it, that I appreciate.

If we have not always agreed about details, we surely have been in harmony on principles.

The philatelic public at large, I think, owes you a debt of gratitude. That, in any event, is my personal feeling.

Faithfully.

James Waldo Fawcett.

WANT PRESIDENTIAL COVERS?

The publishers again want to state that they can not supply any of the First Day Covers of the Presidential series. We do not deal in such covers. In this issue we call attention of persons wanting covers, to the advertisement of the Modern Stamp Co., of Milwaukee who offer these covers. We get many requests from collectors who want our envelopes used for first day covers and any dealer having such to offer will do well to advertise them. We do not know if the covers offered by the Modern Stamp Co., are on our envelopes.

D. S. WYLIE CONTRACT

Beginning in this issue you will find an advertisement of D. S. Wylie of New York. Mr. Wylie has contracted for a period of time and we feel free to say that he has long been well and favorably known among New York Dealers.

WAGES AND HOURS BILL

Almost every stamp dealer in the United States, at least the dealers who do their business principally by mail will be affected by the new Wages and Hours bill which prohibits a work week of more than 44 hours for employees unless time and a half is paid for overtime and prohibits an hourly wage of less than 25c per hour for this first year.

Sooner or later the law will catch up with you if you try to avoid this new law. What interests us most, however, is the fact that this law will and does apply to Philatelic Publishers. Included along with philatelic publishers will be those smaller prairie print shops which have specialized in cheap printing because they employed cheap labor. Plants of this sort printing Philatelic and other publications for publishers located in other distant states will have to comply with this law as well and compliance in some cases is certain to mean an increase in their printing prices for publishers of the class of publications that have patronized these plants.

For our part we welcome this new law for these plants.

For our part we welcome this new law for we have always been of the belief that a laborer was worthy of a decent living wage and even as yet that figure is too low for better class

The November number of the Kenmore Kollector is another 16 page issue filled with offers of British Colonial stamps from the KenMore Stamp Company. Besides offers of both old and new issues, there is also a complete listing of all new George V stamps to this date.

Included in the issue are numerous interesting news notes and "Ken of Kenmore" has an interesting discussion of recent Scott Catalog prices as applied to British Colonial Stamps.

An announcement of much interest is the announcement of the new 1939 edition of the KenMore Price List of British Colonial Issues, which is in preparation and which is to be quite enlarged and expanded in content over the first edition. Besides a more complete listing of the stamps, both used and unused will be priced and the list will contain numerous illustrations.

BRITISH NORTH AMERICA LIST

Mr. J. N. Sissons of Toronto, Canada, has just issued a very complete new list of British North American stamps. Many of the stamps are priced in both good and fine condition and many others used, unused and in blocks. The list should be of interest to all collectors of these popular issues. Mr. Sissons' announcement appears regularly in our columns.

STANLEY GIBBONS ISSUES ILLUSTRATED U. S. CATALOGUE

Our advertising columns this week carry an announcement from Stanley Gibbons, Inc., of New York, regarding the issue of a new U. S. Catalogue which will be fully illustrated. This new catalogue will consist of over 110 pages, loose leaf, printed on one side of the paper only, leaving ample room for notes etc. The catalogue will contain much information regarding stamps, quantities printed and other notes of interest. The catalogue will have a leatherette cover and will include a new feature in the pricing of complete U. S. Envelopes will also be illustrated. The price of this new catalogue will be one dollar postpaid. For many years past the Gibbons Price List has been the "under the counter" price List of many leading dealers and this new list should prove of immense value and interest to all collectors. in the pricing of complete U. S. Envelopes which are becoming quite popular. Envelopes will also be illustrated. The price of this new catalogue will be one dollar postpaid. For many years past the Gibbons Price List has been the "under the counter" price list of many leading dealers and this new list should prove of immense value and interest to all collectors.

Delving back into the dark dim past, if memory is to be my guide, it seems that I recall writing several times about datings on postage due stamps. ones in question were from Tampa, Fla., the 10c and 30c values were the denominations in question. So in an effort to prove this to myself I started rummaging thru the boxes and barrels that I keep my stamps in and altho I did not find the particular items I was looking for, which was to be expected, I did find several other pieces that prove the point just as well. Now here is the method of imprinting the PREDAT-EDS. In every instance it was applied with some sort of a rubber dating device common to offices and was placed at random over the sheet of precancels. The first piece I discovered was a horizontal block of ten of the 10c B81 from New York. The date 9-36 is stamped all over the piece. The other item I found was a 1917 type 50c Due from Los Angeles with the date "Aug. 15" the year date just missing the stamp. With an unusual memory pang I sud-denly remembered where my Tampa dues were and lo and behold I found a nice block of six of the 30c 1917 dues in the U-12 type dated in a big rubber stamp, "Feb. 6-1933," at three places on the block. So I offer for your consideration the forerunner of our present dateds, the PRE-DATEDS. Just where the stamps accumulated their dates I am not sure but I would rather think that this dating was administered at the post office rather than by the user of the stamps. Comments and news of other Pre-Dateds solicited. Write me about what you have. Have you one that antedates the Feb. 6, 1933, item mentioned above?

HANDSTAMPS DEFENDED

The Bee has been publishing comments pro and con about the "BOKER plan" for forthcoming editions of the general catalog. For that matter it in my estimation should be called the "LINN plan" for five or six years ago Editor LINN explained almost the identical plan to me that BOKER wrote about in the BEE. As I remember it George said "They will have to come to it sooner or later, if they want a catalog worthy of being called a catalog." I am sure though that if a sensible plan is worked out for a general precancel catalog Mr. LINN will not want nor make any claim to any of the glory that might go with it. Getting back to our knitting tho, in the October issue of the Bee articles S. P. Harmon and Henry Perlish defended the handstamps. There is no doubt that they have some good argument but taking the words of Dr. Hoskins speaking in the Optimist: "Any solution of the problem will have

"Any solution of the problem will have its disadvantages, temporarily or permanently. Few will dispute that statement.

So, it follows that we must prepare to accept some change, presumably the least objectionable. We should weigh the problem with the thought that losses in one direction may easily be offset by gains in some other direction. Until some better suggestion is offered, we will back the Boker plan. You can help the publishers of the catalog to arrive at an early decision by expressing your views to Berton Hoover, 444 Fourth Avenue, New York, N. Y." This I think just about sums up the whole matter.

Notes

Connecticut seems to have been a slow state in getting out Presidential precancels but is coming along nicely now. I only have four Conn. items tho.—Some of this week's findings: Alexander, Va., 1c Pres. U-121. 1c Pres. Butler, Pa., U-88. Geo. Class shows me the ½, 1, 1½, 3, 4, 4½c from South Royalton, Vt., in U-121 type. That is the first FOUR cent for this column. Another Ohio Pres., 1½c Marysville, U-121.

Postal Rates Changed By Presidential Proclamation

Usually postal rates are changed by an act of Congress which in turn gives the Postmaster General considerable leeway in making special rates, but on October 31, President Roosevelt by proclamation directed that for the period from Nov. 1, 1938, until June 30, 1939, the postage rates on books shall be 11/2c per pound or fraction thereof, irrespective of the zone to which they are ad-dressed. A book in the meaning of the postal rules is a paper or cloth bound publication containing reading matter and advertisements, if any, only con-cerning books; and having 24 or more pages of which at least 22 shall be printed. The new ruling is intended to benefit the millions of the population who live in rural sections remote from libraries and book stores and is an exbranes and book stores and is an ensured tension of the policy of low postage rates to encourage dissemination of information. Prior to the proclamation parcel post rates applied to book parcels weighing over eight ounces. The president acted after it was shown that pamphlets of a none too desirable nature could be mailed very cheaply and books of high quality had to pay much higher rates. The proclamation was made under provisions of resolutions of Congress passed during 1933, 1934, 1935 and 1937.

 Toronto's machine cancellation has been advertising "ROYAL WINTER FAIR — TORONTO — Nov. 15th-23rd, 1938."

Fake Esthonian Sheet

It is now known that the Esthonian miniature sheet of four labels to commemorate international wrestling matches last April is a fake produced and distributed by an A. Elmelo, who was arrested by Esthonian authorities as a result. The fake contains four labels of denominations of 1, 2, 3 and 5 krooni, one of which shows a gentleman in rather scanty apparel hoisting a tree trunk.

Dealer Goes Bankrupt

According to a newspaper clipping from a San Diego, California, paper, Charles Lee Tubbs of that city was adjudicated bankrupt on October 15 and creditors were to hold a meeting on October 22 in the Bank of America Bldg. This man has been operating a stamp shop in the U. S. Grant Hotel Lobby in that city.

- Now that straightedges are becoming unusual on recent U. S. postage, the Roosevelt Philatelic Society's Straight Edge comes decorated with a 25c Documentary lacking teeth on one side.
- MOUNT MITCHELL, N. C., is losing its fourth-class postoffice on November 30. This would be an appropriate cancel for that spare Asheville souvenir sheet.
- The Bingham & Lewiston R. P. O. uses a cancel reading "Rockwood & Oakland." So postcards W. G. Koelln of New York City.

HOW TO ESTIMATE NUMBER OF WORDS, LETTERS, OR CHARACTERS IN A LINE — Advertisers can quite accurately estimate the wordage that they can get in a line by carefully writing their advertising copy and then counting the letters, numbers, punctuation marks, etc. in their copy. In counting, count each individual letter, figure or punctuation mark and count also as an individual digit, each space or separation between words or figures. A complete line will count approximately 40 to 45 such letters, figures, punctuation marks or spaces between words. If you will follow this plan of counting you can almost accurately estimate what you can put in a line.

figures, punctuation marks or spaces between words. Any you can put in a line.

At this time we will begin to rearrange the style of typesetting on this classified page. In the future the first line will not be set in all capital letters as heretofore, but only the first display word or group of words to attract the eye. Therefore try to write your copy to make the first word or the first two or three words your eye catcher words.

How Scarce Envelope Varieties Were Created

The 30c and 90c stamped envelopes of the Plimpton Issues of 1874-1886 have never been particularly scarce with the exception of these two on cream pape: A copy of the Queen City Philatelist and Collector's Advocate dated Feb.-March, 1888, tells the story. In the list of varietics which the government announced could be ordered of the issue referred to all values could be supplied on a number of papers. Cream however had to be specially ordered as post offices did not stock the 30c and 90c in this form. The minimum quantity that could be ordered was 1,000 envelopes. This offered a tempting lure to speculators and as it became apparent that none of these were going to be ordered by anyone for postal use, several dealers formed a pool and ordered 1,000 of each variety, costing them $1200 for the face value plus a few dollars for the envelope stock. Today the pair are catalogued at $97.50 unused, and not priced used as undoubtedly few were so used. Had they not ordered these envelopes, the two varieties would never have existed except as theoretical ones. Many envelopes manufactured today may be purchased only in quantities, but all available have been used and today's list contains no "theoretical varieties."

R. P. O. Titles

Wm. G. Koellin, Penn. Terminal Railway Post Office, New York City, points out that a number of R. P. O.'s use cancellations inscribed differently than the official title and route of the office. Four offices doing so are: "Pulaski & Mt. Airy" which uses a cancellation reading "Pulaski & Galax," "Clovis & Pecos" uses "Clovis & Carlsbad," "Dover & Brewton" cancels as "Dover & Dublin," and "Colum. & Cinn." uses "Pitts. & St. Louis."

CHATTER BROADWAY

The report for this week will be the sale held Oct. 20-24 by J. M. Bartels Co., one of New York's largest stamp auctions. For the past few sales, they have been experiencing exceptionally fine floor attendance which gives those who sent in mail bids some steep competition. The sale was conducted by Walter S. Scott, who has been absent from auction work for quite a few months.

Some of the more outstanding items in Bartels' sale were the #32d, type IV with red New York cancellation. This stamp catalogues at $35.00, sold for $23.10; #459, the 2c rotary imperf. pair, superb, cataloging $120.00, sold for $85.00; #467, the 5c error in block of 12 sold for $47.50. Catalogue value is $50.00, and the #505, 5c error in block of 12 in superb condition which catalogues at $27.50, was knocked down at $24.50.

Among the revenues we find #3820, perf. 4c playing card, sold for $13.25, while catalog value is $15.00; imperforates showed a favorable trend, i.e., #383, 1c imperf. the four arrow and center line blocks which catalogues at $15.00, was literally stolen for $10.25, and #409, 2c imperf. as a lot of four Plate blocks of six, and center line set, cataloging $14.00, sold for $8.25. Again the Zeppelins, #1312-14, have come through with even higher prices than previously reported. The complete set of Zepps was delivered for $34.35. An interesting item in the Commemorative section is that #297, the 5c Pan-American in superb block, was sold for $12.00. This block catalogues for $15.00.

In the Foreign section Canadian Cover Collectors will find the following item to be of interest. The 3c Confederation used together on cover with Bahamas Special Delivery #202 at Winnipeg, addressed to the Bahamas, was sold for

Among the outstanding things to be shown at the exhibition at the Rockefeller Center will be five frames from the collection of Philip H. Ward, Jr. of Philadelphia. Three will be devoted to exhibiting the first issue Imperforates of various countries. Notably a block of 18 of the 1d black of Great Britain mint, a used block of the 2d blue, all of the Brazilian "Bull's Eyes" in blocks. The remaining two panes will exhibit a mint block of 16 of the 5c 1847, the 1861 issue from the 1c to the 12c mint blocks, the August Issue, the Pan American 1c. and 4c blocks with the center inverted, and all of the rare revenues.

If you recall my column in the Oct. 29th issue, a stamp dealer was described as selling stamps on a push cart here in New York. This item brought forth many stories not usually told on Nassau St. It deals with the early stamp settlers on Nassau St. who walked up and down the street with large boards on their arms and pinned on them were the stamps. If you wanted to purchase any of the stamps, you removed the pin which had pierced the stamp, and the stamp was yours, of course, for a nominal fee. This was the beginning of the N. Y. curb exchange.

O. P. S. Convention

The banquet of the Oklahoma Philatelic Society at its Sixth Annual Convention at Seminole was attended by nearly 200 guests and members. This live midwestern society enlisted over 500 new members during the past year and staged an exhibition of 856 frames. Ponca City is expected to have next year's convention. Highlight of the banquet was the reading of a letter from Postmaster General Farley stating that nine of the "Heroes of Peace" had been decided upon for that proposed issue of ten stamps and that he favored placing Will Rogers upon one of the series. President C. N. A. DeBajligethy of Tulsa was reelected, as was the Business Secretary, Mrs. C. S. Buxton of Seminole, Okla.
